BRAND IDENTITY GUIDELINES

Curis Health

“Branding demands commitment; commitment to continual re-invention; striking chords with people to stir their emotions; and commitment to imagination. It is easy to be cynical about such things, much harder to be successful.”

"it can only be Curis Health Limited."
It will take discipline and consistency. But it will pay out.

COMPANY LOGO

Name, company logo, colours, typeface: these are the pillars of the identity of the company. Their characteristics ensure an individual and consistent image of the company on the market. The graphic of the definitive logo is very clean, rounded cross, essential, strong and emphasizes the values of the brand. The logo is a graphic comprised of the wordmark (logotype) and figurative mark (symbol). The lettering is created using the Kumbh typeface, and the stylized cross is inseparable.

The logo should be always produced from the master artwork. The only time you should use the symbol alone is on the website or social media channels where there are other elements to help the user recognise the brand.

LOGO COSTRUCTION

Designing a logo and a visual identity goes way beyond the free form and artistic side of what most people think. There is all the rational part including proportions, scaleability optical adjustments and reproduction that has to be thought in order to create an efficient and well design logo. The visual design guidelines will provide this information to ensure that the brand is used correctly. Here we want to illustrate the construction or guidelines of our logo.

EXCLUSION ZONE

We've defined an exclusion zone that stops other graphic elements interfering with the Curis Health Limited logotype and make sure the logo is easy to read.

Proportions, space and size relationships of all blocks have been carefully developed and must not be altered, redrawn, embellished or recreated in any way. An important part of maintaining a consistent presentation is keeping a clear space around the logo from other text, graphics or illustrations. Crowding the logo detracts from its legibility and impact.

LEGIBILITY

The logo should never be too small to read. We've set a minimum size of 20 mm or 60 pixels. Based on the standard range, the recommended sizes are shown here.

The logo can be used as a tab for pages and imagery. There should be enough clear space at the top of the logo to allow for this in print or online applications.

It is not recommended to use the logo at less than 20mm in width. However, if necessary, use the alternative logotype when 20mm width or greater is not possible. The Curis Health Limited favicon graphic is linked with the website. It is a smaller representation of the brand for the browser and for the mobile interfaces. Take into account that the favicon is not the brand logo and should never replace the logo.

BRAND COLORS

To keep the brand fresh and exciting have been created a palette of 3 colors: the inspiration for these is explained in the next section. The Curis Health Limited logotype can be produced only from these colors. Please select the most appropriate color for your communication and over time try to use them equally so we don't become associated with just one colors. You should always try to use the positive (main) version of the logo. However, when the background is the same colour as an element of the logo you can use the negative version.

The Curis Health Limited logo can exist with an “inverted” colour scheme, which means that the main colour is light grey and the fox remains orange on a green background.

GLOSSARY

Corporate Identity
A corporate identity is the overall image of a corporation or firm or business in the minds of diverse publics, such as customers and investors and employees. It is a primary task of the company communications department to maintain and build this identity to accord with and facilitate the attainment of business objectives.

Identity Manual
A formal reference document establishing technical and creative standards for a visual identity system. Typical standards include descriptions and specifications for reproducing the logo or logotype stationery system, common print and web applications and examples of use on merchandise.

Logo
A logo is a graphic mark or emblem commonly used by commercial enterprises, organizations and even individuals to aid and promote instant public recognition. Logos are either purely graphic (symbols/icons) or are composed of the name of the organization (a logotype or wordmark).

Typeface/Font Family
In typography, a typeface (also known as font family) is a set of one or more fonts each composed of glyphs that share common design features. Each font of a typeface has a specific weight, style, condensation, width, slant, italicization, ornamentation, and designer or foundry.

Stationary
Stationary has historically pertained to a wide gamut of materials: paper and office supplies, writing implements, greeting cards, glue, pencil cases and other similar items.

Template
A pre-developed page layout in electronic or paper media used to make new pages with a similar design, pattern, or style.

Brand
Brand is the "name, term, design, symbol, or any other feature that identifies one seller's product distinct from those of other sellers." Initially, branding was adopted to differentiate one person's cattle from another's by means of a distinctive symbol burned into the animal's skin with a hot iron stamp and was subsequently used in business, marketing, and advertising.

CMYK
The CMYK color model (process color, four color) is a subtractive color model, used in color printing, and is also used to describe the printing process itself. CMYK refers to the four inks used in some color printing: cyan, magenta, yellow, and key (black). The "K" in CMYK stands for key because in four-color printing, cyan, magenta, and yellow printing plates are carefully keyed, or aligned, with the key of the black key plate.

Color Palette
A given, finite set of colors for the management of digital images.
